THE ADVISORY AND ACCOUNTING NETWORK

As the second largest economy in the world, China is one of the key destinations for global businesses. It is the world's largest exporter, second largest importer, largest receiver of FDI and second largest investor.

But with its Eastern culture and customs, for business leaders, navigating the Chinese marketplace or doing business locally with Chinese partners can be complex. As one of the first international accounting networks to enter Greater China, we know how to assist businesses with this challenge. That is why we set up our 'Global China Service'.

We know that just having a native speaker as your guide is often not enough to close successful business deals. You need advisors armed with both local and international knowledge to fully service multinational clients. Our qualified local professionals do just that.
